(No. 6 March 2001)

The Office of Information Technology Services (ITS) is responsible for the operation and management of the computing and networking infrastructure. It is important that the resources are used effectively according to the education, research, and service mission of the Department. This ITS procedures handbook applies to all users of CAL FIRE including consultants, contractors and other non-CAL FIRE employee's. The purpose of this handbook is to ensure that every network user can enjoy a secure, reliable and productive working environment. This policy covers areas on proper usage, legal aspects, respect for the rights of others and regulation enforcement.
